Register for Trainings Offered by the National HIV Classroom Learning Center Today!

The CDC National HIV Classroom Learning Center offers FREE HIV Trainings to all CDC-funded health departments, organizations, and partnering agencies. Currently all training programs are being offered as live, virtual, instructor-led classroom trainings. The training calendar of events is updated regularly as new training programs are added.

How to access training:

- Visit our Training Calendar to register for upcoming trainings with open registration
- Request training specifically for your organization through the CBA Tracking System (CTS)

Two-Step Registration:

NHCLC Trainings have a two-step registration process. After completing step one of registration, your registration will be sent to CDC for review and acceptance into the training. You will then be directed to complete your registration and any prerequisites on CDC TRAIN, if confirmed to attend the training. Participants must complete both steps of registration in order to attend the training.
